SEASON OUTLOOK

Fresh off a 30-win season and a berth into the Big Ten Tournament, the University of Iowa baseball team looks to continue its momentum into year two under head coach Rick Heller.

"Making it to the conference tournament last year motivated the returning players to want to take it a step further," said Heller. "This group wants to compete for a championship and put themselves into a position to advance to NCAA Regionals."

The Hawkeyes have the pieces in place to vie for a Big Ten title with four All-Big Ten selections and 2/3 of its starting rotation returning. Iowa has seven positional players and its starting designated hitter, nine pitchers and a total of 17 letterwinners returning from a team that went 30-23 a season ago.

Iowa's offense was among the Big Ten's best in 2014 and the core of the team is returning. The Hawkeyes led the conference with a .296 team batting average and ranked among the top three in runs, RBIs, hits, home runs, and slugging and on-base percentage.

"This team's goals are high," said Heller. "The success we had last year helped build the expectations of the group coming back. It started from day one... these guys know what we want to accomplish both on and off the field."

STARTING PITCHING

After mixing and matching its pitching staff last season, Heller and UI pitching coach Scott Brickman have a good problem surfacing heading into the 2015 campaign. The Hawkeyes have four legitimate options fighting for the three spots in the weekend rotation.

The top starter — if healthy — is junior right-hander Calvin Mathews, who was the team's Friday night starter for 2/3 of the season before missing two weeks with a shoulder injury. Mathews made 11 starts as a sophomore, where he posted a 3-3 record with a team-low 2.72 ERA. He logged 72 2/3 innings, striking out 60 batters to only 20 walks.

"Calvin has been there before," said Heller. "That's a big part of being the Friday night starter is the experience and confidence factor. Calvin knows he is capable of winning on Friday night, and in his mind, he'll know he is stronger than he was last year."

CALVIN MATHEWS
JUNIOR

"He has been healthier this fall than he has been in his career. He didn't have any setbacks, so we're optimistic Calvin is not only going to be healthier this spring, but stronger."

Mathews had six quality starts in 11 outings as a sophomore and he allowed three or fewer runs in 10-of-11 starts. The Bloomfield, Iowa, native was second in the Big Ten, limiting opposing hitters to a .212 batting average and was eighth in ERA (2.72) and 10th in strikeouts (60).

Junior right-hander Tyler Peyton returns after posting a 5-1 record with a 4.86 ERA as the team's Sunday starter in 2014. The Grimes, Iowa, native tossed 76 innings and had 45 strikeouts, but also issued 33 walks.

"I would expect to see a more mature, consistent Tyler Peyton this season, which is the only thing he needed to improve on," said Heller. "He gave us quality innings last year, but he would have the one inning where he let a couple of walks and a base hit turn into a big inning. I think he'll be more consistent with a year under his belt."

After starting the 2014 season as a dual-role player, junior right-hander Blake Hickman transitioned solely to the mound midway through the year and his results were promising. The Chicago native went 2-2 with a 3.93 ERA in 17 appearances, including five starts. He earned the start in Iowa's elimination game victory against Minnesota (he wasn't involved in the decision) at the Big Ten Tournament, throwing five innings of three-hit, one-run ball.

"Even though it's still a learning process, Blake is much farther ahead now than he was at any point last season," said Heller. "His secondary stuff has improved and he has cleaned up his mechanics. I look for Blake to have a great year."

Hickman pitched in the Cape Cod League last summer for the Hyannis Harbor Hawks. Pitching every fifth day, he went 3-4 with a 4.91 ERA. In his three wins, he threw 18 1/3 innings, allowing two runs on 13 hits with 14 strikeouts and a 0.98 ERA.

The wildcard to the rotation, junior left-hander Ryan Erickson, could prove to be one of the most valuable pieces. The Mason City, Iowa, native joined the Hawkeyes as a walk-on after sitting out the 2014 season. He saw limited action at Johnson County (Kansas) Community College in 2013.

"Ryan gives us exactly what we needed after losing Sasha Kuebel to the MLB Draft last season," said Heller. "He was outstanding in the fall. He has good fastball command in the upper 80s, low 90s, to go along with a hard breaking ball and good change-up."

"We feel Ryan is going to be a viable candidate to be one of our three starters once we start conference play in March. It's going to be a battle all winter heading into the opening weekend in early February."

Iowa's starting pitching depth goes even deeper with the return of senior southpaw Andrew Hedrick and the addition of junior college right-hander Connor Grant, giving Hawkeyes' an array of options for midweek starts. Senior Nick Hibbing could also be a spot starter.

"Hedrick has made some headway and been more consistent in individual sessions this fall," said Heller. "Connor is in the mix, fighting for a spot. We have a nice problem to deal with as far as fitting roles."

Hedrick went 3-4 with a 4.98 ERA in 13 games as a junior. He made six starts early in the season, including a victory over St. Bonaventure, where he threw 6 2/3 scoreless innings, scattering four hits and striking out seven. Grant pitched in relief last season at Ellsworth Community College, where he was a two-way player.

RELIEF PITCHING

The Hawkeyes won 30 games in 2014 with a bullpen that was pieced together like a jigsaw puzzle as two walk-ons developed into the team's top relief options. Heller and Co. were forced to mix-and-match their bullpen last season; in 2015, the Hawkeyes have the luxury of depth.

Junior Tyler Radtke was one of the walk-on success stories, emerging as Iowa's closer a season ago, where he led the team with three saves. The right-hander went 2-2 with a 3.89 ERA in 23 appearances, striking out 38 batters in 37 innings.

"We know Tyler has the stuff and the ability to close games," said Heller. "He has improved his game dramatically and is much more consistent with his breaking ball. Anytime Tyler got in any trouble last year, it was self-inflicted. I don't see him giving things away like he did; he's more consistent and confident right now."

One of the recruiting goals for the 2015 season was adding depth for the back-end of games. Iowa made good on its goal with the addition of Iowa Central Community College transfer Luke Vandermaten. The right-hander was a first-team all-region honoree after ranking second nationally with 11 saves last season. He went 5-0 with a 1.07 ERA with 44 strikeouts in 42 innings.

"Luke gives us something that is different from the rest of our staff," said Heller. "He's a multi-arm angle pitcher and a true closer. He is used to being out there with the game on the line and has proven he can finish the game."

Senior Nick Hibbing was a durable option out of the bullpen in 2014, logging a team-high 24 appearances, where he posted a 3-3 record with a 4.74 ERA. The right-hander had 30 strikeouts in 43 2/3 innings.

"Nick has worked hard heading into his senior year; he's in the best shape of his career," said Heller. "He has worked hard to clean up his mechanics, and I think you'll see a more consistent pitcher this season. Nick will have a valuable role for us."

Former walk-on Jared Mandel gives the Hawkeyes a versatile option after establishing himself as a reliable pitcher in 2014. After not seeing any game action for the first month of the season, Mandel made 15 appearances over the final three months, going 2-1 with a 2.70 ERA over 23 1/3 innings with two saves.

"The great thing about Jared is he can do multiple things," said Heller. "He can close in a pinch, he isn't afraid to take the ball in tough situations, or he can come in, and get a lefty out. He's valuable if you need him to log 2-3 innings or you wouldn't feel bad bringing Jared in with two outs and a runner on third in the ninth inning."

Heller is eager to see the role Connor Grant carves out because it could evolve into being a starter, long-reliever, or set-up guy. Grant had eight saves at Ellsworth Community College in 2014, where he posted a 1.69 ERA over 15 appearances. He struck out 16 and allowed just three earned runs in 16 innings.

"Connor's fastball is the second-best on our team at 94-95 miles per hour," said Heller. "We recruited Connor knowing he didn't have a lot of mound experience, but we're happy with his development. If he can give us consistency like he did late in the fall, he'll have a key role. He flashed dominant stuff with a breaking ball that is a swing and miss pitch."

Iowa also returns two bullpen pieces — senior Brandon Shulista and sophomore Matt Allen — who both contributed in 2014. Shulista posted a 2-0 record in 13 appearances, but had a 9.22 ERA, while Allen went 1-1 with a 5.29 ERA in 10 outings.

"Brandon had a nice fall after a disappointing junior season," said Heller. "He seems to have his confidence back and was attacking hitters and pounding the zone with all of his pitches."

"Matt did a nice job as a freshman, and he has come back stronger, more mature, and confident. He's a good ground ball pitcher who we could go to when we need a double play. He throws a good sinker, and is a pitcher who can log innings if we need him to."

Two pitchers — redshirt sophomore Josh Martsching and redshirt junior Taylor Kaufman — are on the mend. Martsching missed all of last season with Tommy John surgery and is nearly back to 100 percent, while Kaufman is still working his way back from shoulder surgery.

"Josh is kind of an unknown," said Heller. "I feel confident Josh is healthy, and he's close to 100 percent. He is a pitcher that pounds the strike zone, which is fantastic for a bullpen pitcher. Early in the year when our starters aren't going as deep into the game, we'll get a chance to see Josh in a middle relief-type role."

"Taylor hasn't been able to regain his velocity, but we haven't given up on it. If we get him back this year, it's a bonus to get another lefty, but if not, we'll keep working and hopefully get him back on the mound next year. We know how good he can be if he's healthy."

Three newcomers — junior right-hander Daniel Aaron Moriel, freshman righty Nick Gallagher, and freshman southpaw Nick Allgeyer — and a current position player — senior right-hander Nick Day — will fight for innings. Allgeyer and Day have the biggest chance to make an impact.

"I challenged Allgeyer with the goal of giving us some innings as a freshman since we're not as deep on the left side," said Heller. "He can throw strikes with multiple pitches and does it with confidence."

"Nick Day experimented pitching this summer and did a nice job. He has a knack for throwing strikes and his plus arm plays on the mound. After seeing him throw during the offseason, it wouldn't make sense to not keep him active because he is a legit option later in the game."

"Moriel is an experienced closer, who possesses good arm strength. He's a quality option that gives us depth."

Heller says Gallagher has thrown well since joining the program, but with the staff's depth, he may be a redshirt option. Freshman Kyle Wade will miss the 2015 season recovering from Tommy John surgery.

CATCHERS

After seeing Jimmy Frankos emerge as the everyday catcher midway through the 2014 season, the Hawkeyes have their top option behind the plate returning in 2015.

"Jimmy played great when he took over the starting job," said Heller. "Not only did he do a good job of handling our pitchers, but he provided a spark at the plate. He gives us another left-handed bat in the lineup and his toughness was infectious with the rest of the team."

The Park Ridge, Illinois, native started 26 games as a sophomore, where he hit .333 with 18 runs, nine walks and seven RBIs. Frankos hit a team-best .344 in Big Ten action to rank 10th in the league and he had nine multi-hit games on the year. Defensively, Frankos posted a .989 fielding percentage, but he threw out just five of 27 would-be base stealers.

"Jimmy has worked hard on his throwing; we've seen a lot of improvement," said Heller. "Offensively, his bat has gotten better. He's a much improved player from where he was this time last season."

While Frankos is the clear-cut starter behind the plate, the Hawkeyes have a trio of players battling for the backup positions in junior college transfer Daniel Aaron Moriel and freshman Austin Guzzo and J.T. Sole.

Moriel was a second-team all-conference selection at East Los Angeles Community College as a utility player, where he hit .286 with eight runs and five RBIs last season. Guzzo is a converted infielder with a big-time bat. He hit .396 with four home runs and a .610 slugging percentage for the 17U Ontario Blue Jays.

"Moriel brings the most experience," said Heller. "He has a plus throwing arm and can shut down the running game."

"It has taken Austin time to adjust, but he has been making big strides. He brings a plus bat if he ends up being that guy. I could see him being a top pinch-hit option and a spot starter because of his bat. His arm strength is solid, but he has to continue to work hard on receiving and blocking."

Sole, the top-ranked catching prospect in Iowa as a senior, rounds out the trio. The Cedar Falls, Iowa, native was a first-team all-state and 2014 Mississippi Valley Conference Player of the Year in 2014 after hitting .385 with 10 doubles and 36 RBIs.

"Sole has done a tremendous job on receiving and is working hard on throwing," said Heller. "He's a viable option for the back-up spot."

INFIELD

The Hawkeyes will be experienced in the infield with three starters returning, including All-Big Ten selections Jake Mangler and Nick Day. The biggest question will be who replaces first-team All-Big Ten and ninth round MLB Draft pick Jake Yacinich at the shortstop position.

Mangler is the unquestioned leader of the infield and team, returning after earning first-team all-region and second-team All-Big Ten honors in 2014. The second baseman hit .315 with 38 runs and a team-high 45 RBIs, which ranked seventh in the conference. Mangler hit .382 with runners in scoring position.

"Jake is a clutch hitter," said Heller. "He came through so many times for us last season. He is one of the best players in the league and brings so many intangibles to the table with his hustle, work ethic, and grit. It makes you feel good as a coach knowing he's going to be out there day-in-and-day-out."

Day returns to the hot corner for his third season as a starter. He'll also fill a dual role, serving as the back-up at short. As a junior, Day earned second-team All-Big Ten honors after a breakout season where he hit .283 with 36 runs and 18 RBIs.

"Nick had an interesting offseason," said Heller. "After losing Yacinich, we asked Nick to play shortstop in summer league and fall ball, knowing he'd be the third baseman. He can play a quality shortstop, and he's one of the best defenders in the league at third base."

"I like what we have on the left side of the infield with the arm strength, range, and experience. Nick has also worked hard on his hitting. He had a nice junior year, but I expect an even better season this year."

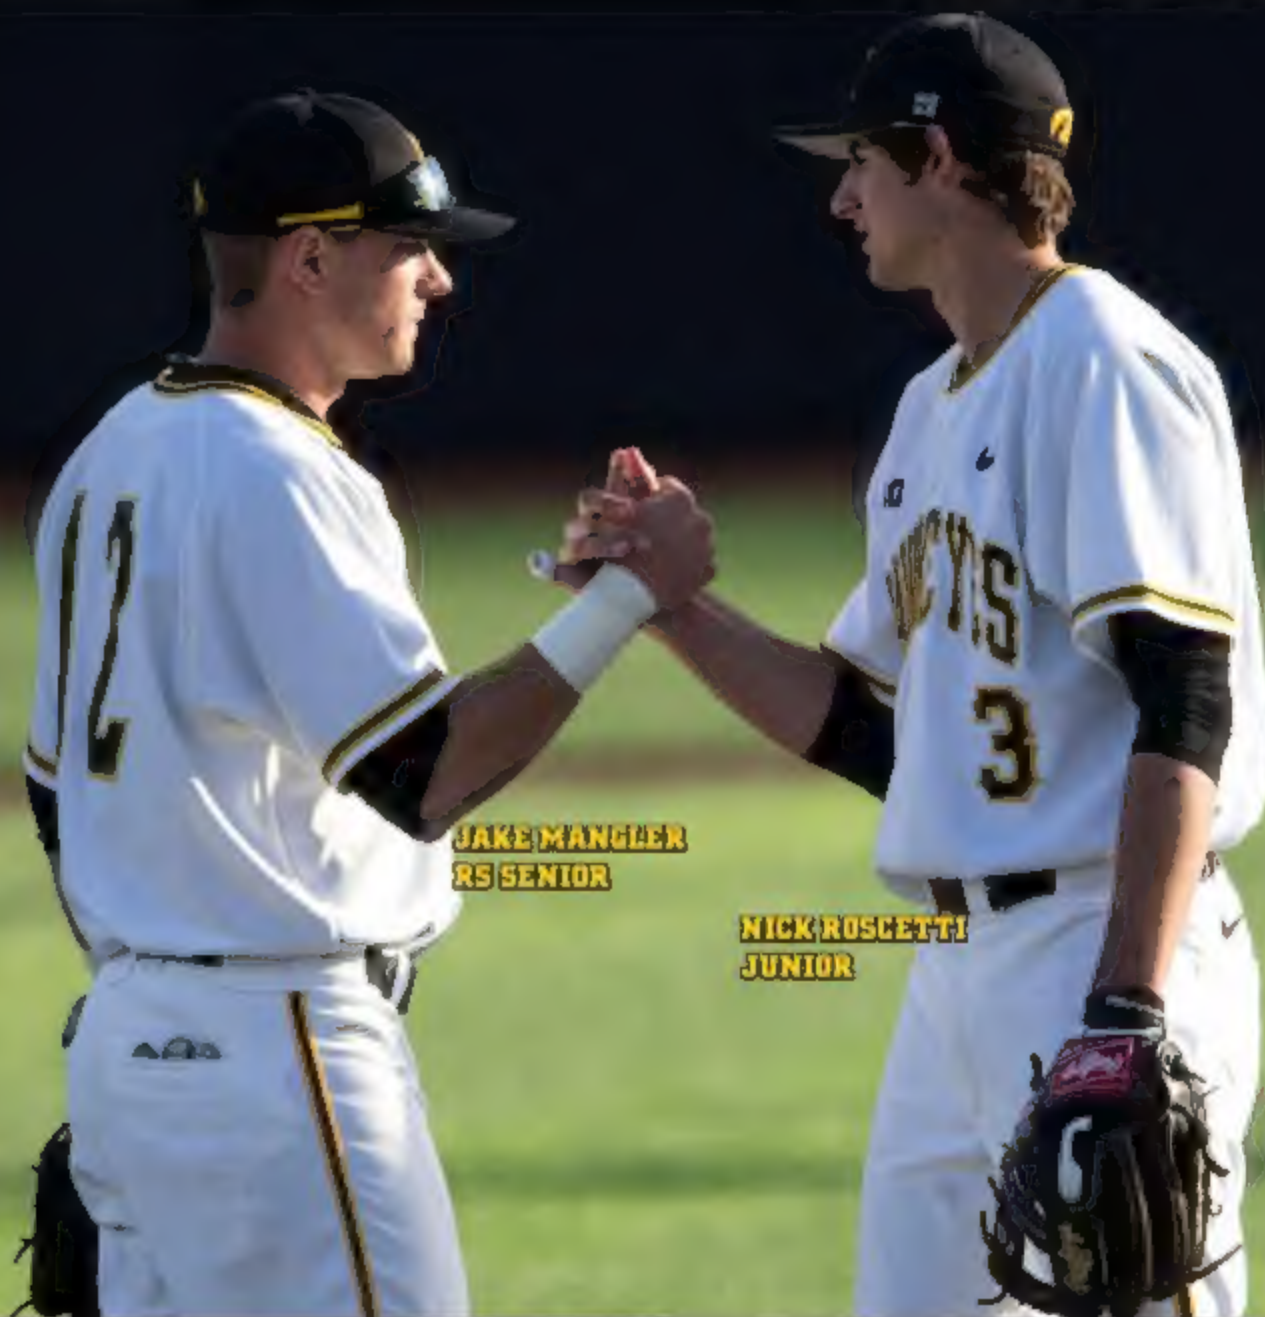

Junior Nick Roscetti will get the first crack to take over for Yacinich at short after serving primarily as a defensive replacement throughout the infield last season. The Illinois native played 33 games with 16 starts, finishing with a .246 batting average with 10 runs and four RBIs. Roscetti started 15 games at short during his freshman season.

"I feel confident that Nick will do a great job at shortstop," said Heller. "He knows he's the guy and will be out playing every day. His arm strength is as good as anybody on our team and he's a plus runner with good range."

"Offensively, Nick has made some adjustments with his hitting. You'll see him driving the ball a lot more than the last two years."

Junior Tyler Peyton is back as the team's starting first baseman for 2-of-3 games of a weekend series when he isn't on the mound. The Grimes, Iowa, native had a solid first season with the Hawkeyes, hitting .331 with 28 RBIs and 23 runs. Hitting in the clean-up spot, Peyton had nine doubles and two home runs, while posting a .437 slugging and .402 on-base percentage.

"Tyler is a great all-around player, a consummate two-way guy, and one of our best players," said Heller. "He's gotten bigger and stronger, and he's driving the ball to the pull-side more. He has closed the hole on the inner half, which will cause pitchers problems because he is so short and quick to the ball."

When Peyton's pitching, Heller sees junior Taylor Kaufman and freshman Grant Klenovich vying for playing time at first base. Kaufman has a .268 career batting average in 45 career games, while Klenovich was the top-ranked first baseman in Illinois as a prep at New Trier Township High School.

"With Taylor's experience and proven ability to hit, it looks like the first few weeks he will get the opportunity to play first base," said Heller. "He is an excellent hitter and his bat is going to be in and out of the lineup all season as a pinch hitter, designated hitter or playing first base."

"Grant did a nice job in the fall and the future looks bright. He's a big, strong player, who will hit for a lot of power. He may be a guy that gets some innings; if he doesn't, a redshirt is a possibility."

Senior Sean Moore, sophomore Carlin Woods, and freshman Kyle "Fenway" Parks will provide depth across the infield. Woods joins the program from Heartland Community College, where he hit .309 with 46 runs and 31 RBIs as a freshman. Parks was a top-500 player by Perfect Game in 2014.

"Sean has done everything we've asked him to," said Heller. "He came in as a second baseman only, and we've asked him to play third and left field, just in case. I feel confident putting Sean anywhere and that he'll do a good job defensively."

"Carlin is a hard-nosed player, solid defensively, and good offensively. He will be a great option at third base, and will be a good pinch-hit, pinch-run guy. He brings a lot to the table with his hustle and work habits. He's a solid all-around player."

"Fenway has a lot of power. He takes a great hack and has the ability to drive the ball. He has worked hard at second, third, and left field, knowing it would be hard to break into the starting lineup this year. He's a redshirt candidate, but he's a freshman we'd be confident in if we needed him to play."

OUTFIELD

Heller has a lot to like in the outfield with the return of two starters — Eric Toole, a four-year starter and a two-time All-Big Ten centerfielder and Kris Goodman, a player who has started 116 games in three seasons. Add in junior college transfers Joel Booker and Eric Schenk-Johlinke and the outfield has a chance to be special.

"Our outfield will be one of the best in the Big Ten, maybe anybody in the country," said Heller. "The speed, experience, and offensive potential we will put out there each day will be special. When you have quality competition it brings out the best in the group."

Toole has been a mainstay in the Hawkeye lineup since arriving on campus in 2011. He has started 132 career games, posting a .302 batting average with 91 runs, 54 RBIs, and 43 steals. As a junior, Toole finished with career bests in hits (67), runs (48), RBIs (38), doubles (9), and triples (3).

"Eric is an excellent center fielder and a quality leadoff guy," said Heller. "He has worked hard on all facets of his game since last year. Eric is a driven player who wants to be the best, and he is an excellent leader."

Heller has seen Goodman emerge as one of the team's most improved players since the end of 2014 — a season where the Minnesota native had career bests across the board. Goodman finished his junior campaign with a .284 batting average with 29 runs, eight doubles, four home runs, and 28 RBIs.

"Kris has worked so hard in the offseason, not only on his hitting, but his defense," said Heller. "He's a guy I feel confident playing any of the outfield spots, third base, or second base... anywhere you want to put him. He looks to be the opening day starter in left field."

Booker joins the team after a two-year run at Indian Hills Community College, where he was an honorable mention All-American and a first-team all-region selection. He finished the year with a .403 batting average and led the squad in runs (58), hits (75), triples (7), RBIs (61), and slugging percentage (.689). He tallied 24 multi-hit games and was 24-of-26 on the base paths.

"Joel is our fastest outfielder and possesses plus throwing arm," said Heller. "He's going to be an exciting player to watch both offensively and defensively. Joel's speed really plays, and he's a game-changer if his bat stays consistent."

Schenk-Johlinke, a transfer from Kirkwood Community College, will push for a spot in the lineup. He hit .309 with one home run, 27 RBIs, and 28 steals as a sophomore a year after hitting .362 with seven home runs, 52 runs, and 28 RBIs during his all-region freshman season.

"Schenk has plus speed and is an excellent defensive outfielder," said Heller. "He has a lot of power offensively, so he's going to be knocking at the door for playing time."

While senior Dan Potempa will see the bulk of his playing time at the designated hitter, the Tinley Park, Illinois, native is another option for the team in the outfield. The Hawkeyes also have junior John Barrett and redshirt sophomore Devin Pickett in the mix.

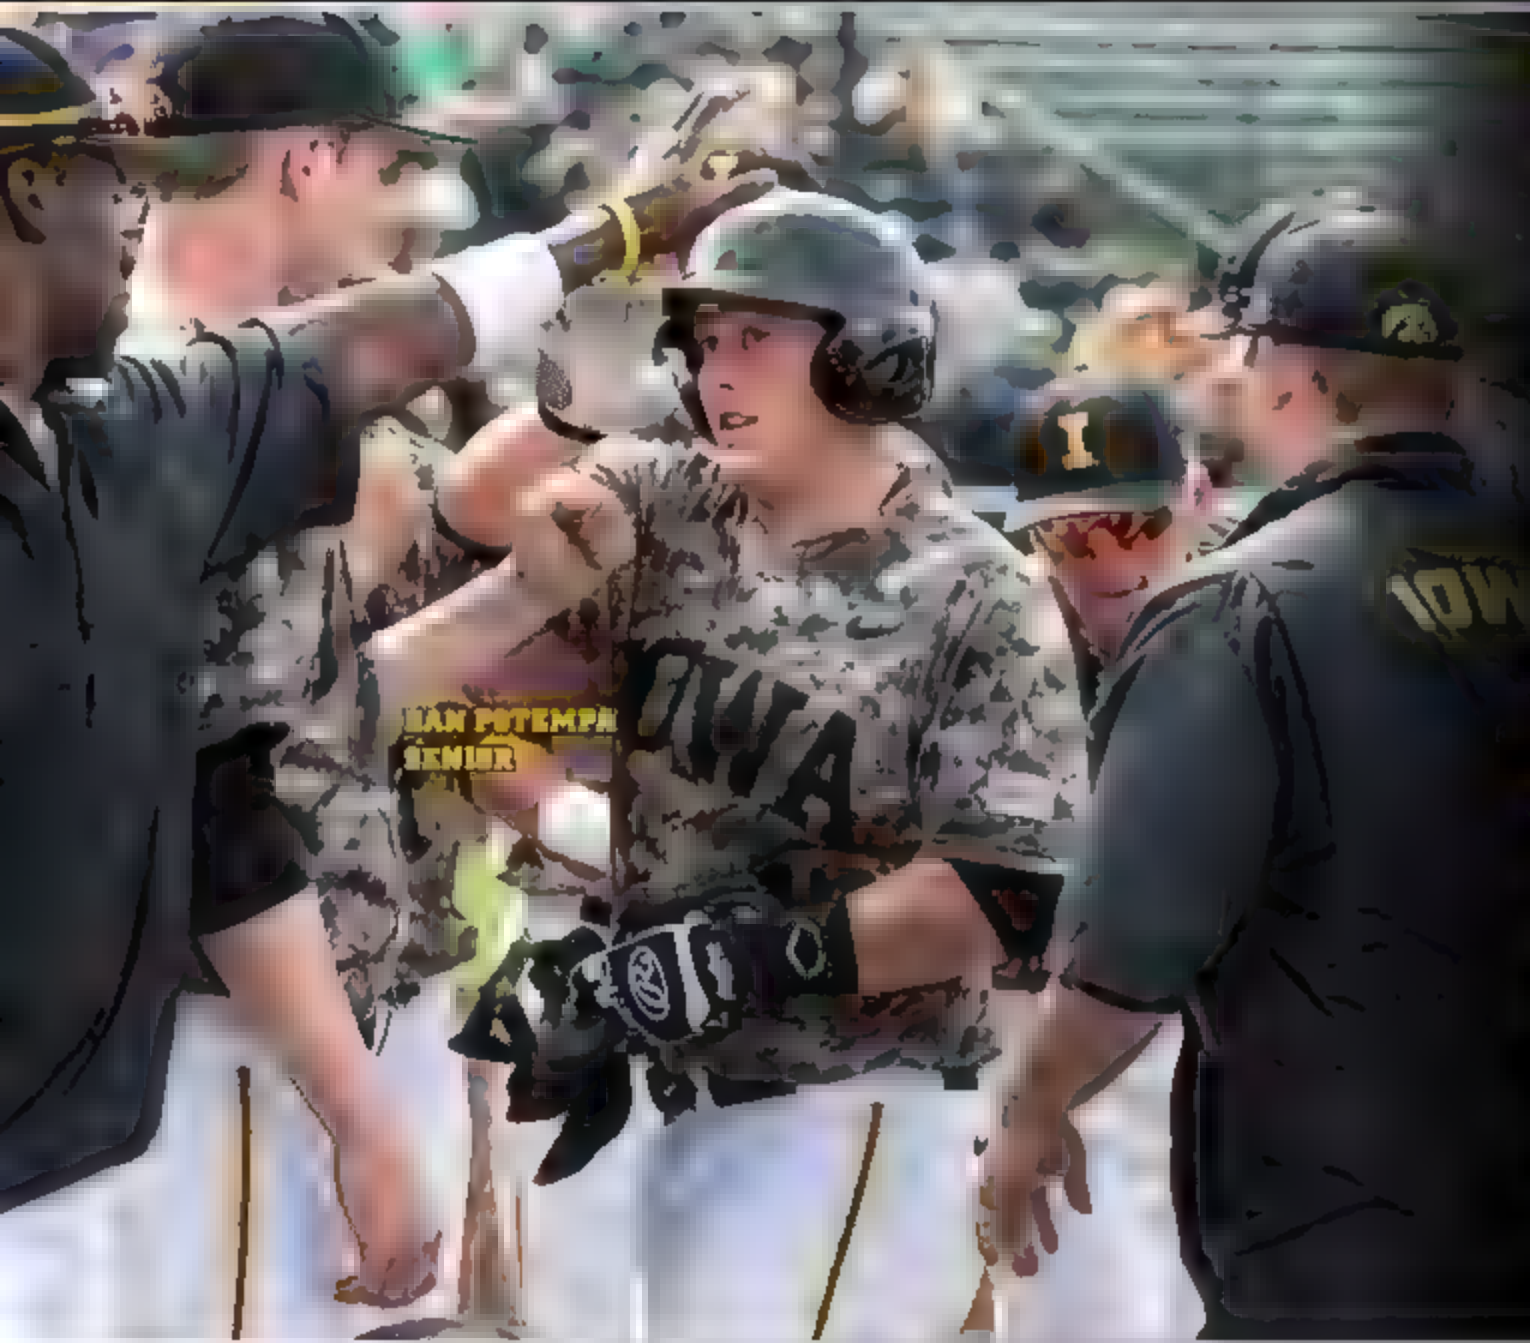

Barrett appeared in seven games as a sophomore in a reserve capacity. Pickett redshirted during the 2014 season and has been battling injuries for the past 18 months.

"John has improved a lot in the offseason, getting bigger, stronger, and has worked hard on his swing," said Heller. "Devin was set back with his hamstring surgery, but he should be back to 100 percent. He'll be battling for playing time."

"We have six good candidates in the outfield with a lot of experience and talent."

DESIGNATED HITTER

The designated hitter position was wide open for the Hawkeyes heading into the 2014 season. Senior Dan Potempa's production changed that and he returns to man a spot in the middle of the lineup.

Potempa earned third-team All-Big Ten recognition in his first season as a Hawkeye, ranking second on the team with a .330 batting average. He paced the squad with 13 doubles and a .455 slugging percentage, tallied 17 multi-hit and 10 multi-RBI games, and was second on the squad with 40 RBIs.

"Dan didn't sit back and become complacent," said Heller. "He's much stronger, in better shape, and is running better. The designated hitter spot as we start day one is his. He's a clutch RBI guy with pop in his bat, and is an experienced middle of the lineup hitter."

Senior Sean Moore and redshirt junior Taylor Kaufman give Iowa options in the DH role. Moore is eligible after sitting out the 2014 season after transferring from Wichita State, while Kaufman is back after being granted a medical redshirt after seeing limited action last season.

"Sean is fighting with Potempa for the designated hitter spot, and he will definitely be one of our top pinch-hitting options," said Heller. "He has a bat that is going to be fighting to get into the lineup all year long."

THE SCHEDULE

The Hawkeyes will face a challenging 53-game schedule with 14 games against teams that qualified for NCAA Regionals last season.

Iowa will open its home slate March 11 against A&M before hosting Indiana in its first Big Ten series from March 27-29. The Hawkeyes also host league foes Northwestern, Nebraska, and Minnesota, while traveling for road series against Purdue, Big Ten favorite Maryland, Michigan, and Rutgers.

The 2015 Big Ten Tournament will be held at Target Field in Minneapolis from May 20-24. The top eight teams in the 12-team conference will advance to the postseason tournament with the winner earning the league's automatic berth into NCAA Regionals, which will take place from May 29-31.

RICK HELLER

Head Coach
Second Season
Upper Iowa, 1986

Rick Heller is entering his second season as head coach of the University of Iowa baseball program. Heller was tabbed as the 20th head coach program history July 12, 2013, after serving as head coach at Indiana State from 2010-13.

Heller, a native of Eldon, Iowa, has been head coach at four institutions — Iowa (2014-present), Indiana State (2009-13), Northern Iowa (1999-2009), and Upper Iowa (1987-99) — leading his first three schools to NCAA postseason play. He led Indiana State to its first outright Missouri Valley Conference title in 2012. He led Northern Iowa to the 2001 MVC title and into the NCAA Tournament, the first regional appearance for the Panthers since becoming a Division I program in 1981. In 27 seasons as a head coach, Heller holds a career mark of 720-588-4.

In his first season in Iowa City, Heller helped guide the Hawkeyes to a 9-1 start — the program's best start since 1940 — a Big Ten Tournament berth and conference tournament win. Iowa finished the year with a 30-23 record for just the third 30-win season since 1993. The 30 victories are the most by a first-year coach in Iowa history.

Heller won his 700th career game in a 13-1 rout of Georgetown on March 15 at the Snowbird Classic in Florida. The Hawkeyes also took 2-of-3 games from Nebraska to open the Big Ten regular season — Iowa's first conference-opening series win since 1998 and took 2-of-3 games against Minnesota for the first time since 2005.

Under Heller's direction, Iowa became one of the most potent offensive teams in the Big Ten in 2014. The Hawkeyes led the conference in four offensive categories (batting average, hits, runs and on-base percentage) and ranked second in four more (slugging percentage, RBI, home runs and total bases). Iowa finished with 23 home runs — a season after the team had two long balls in 49 contests.

Heller coached five student-athletes to All-Big Ten recognition, the most for the program since 2007. Junior shortstop Jake Yacimich garnered first-team All-Big Ten honors after ranking second in the league in batting average and steals. He was the first Iowa first-teamer since 2009. Yacimich was an eighth round draft pick in the 2014 MLB Draft.

Heller and Co. made strides on the recruiting trail following their inaugural season. The Hawkeyes signed a 13-player class that was ranked as the top recruiting class in the Big Ten Conference and 40th-best nationally. The class includes the top-six ranked players in the state of Iowa.

Heller came to the UI after a strong four-year run at Indiana State. He led the Sycamores to their first outright Missouri Valley Conference championship in school history and back to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1995 during the record-setting 2012 season. Indiana State finished 41-19, including a 14-7 record in conference play to claim the regular season crown and earn an at-large bid into the NCAA Tournament. The 41 wins were the most for the program since 1991.

Heller was named the 2012 Ben Callahan MVC Coach of the Year, while junior Jimmy Lamm named the Joe Carter MVC Player of the Year award — the first student-athlete in MVC history to earn the league's MVP — and junior Dakota Bactus was selected as the MVC Newcomer of the Year. Eight members of the team were named All-MVC. Following the season, four Sycamores were drafted in the top-12 rounds and a total of three signed contracts to begin their professional careers.

Heller led Indiana State to its 60th-consecutive winning season in 2013, and to a significant appearance in the MVC Tournament. The Sycamores, who finished 26-25 overall, had four players earn All-MVC honors, including Sean Manning, the 34th overall selection in the 2013 MLB Draft by the Kansas City Royals. The draft selection was the second-highest in ISU baseball program history. Manning became the 16th Sycamore to either be drafted or sign a professional free agent contract since Heller became head coach in 2009.

Heller led Indiana State to a 35-19 record in his first season in Terre Haute, Ind. — the most wins for any first-year coach in ISU baseball history — and a third place MVC finish. The Sycamores were one of two MVC teams to receive votes in the national polls during the season. In 2011, Indiana State went 29-28 and advanced to the semifinals of the MVC Tournament — its deepest run since 2002.

During his tenure at Northern Iowa, Heller's teams won 270 games, including the 2001 Missouri Valley Conference championship and NCAA Regional berth. While building the Panthers into an annual contender, Heller coached three MVC Most Valuable Players, one MVC Pitcher of the Year and helped put 22 players in professional baseball.

While at UNI, Heller's teams broke a total of 57 team or individual records, including setting team records for hits, runs, batted in, doubles and extra base hits during the 2001 season. Heller led the Panthers to four MVC tournaments, winning the championship in 2001. All-American Ryan Brunner claimed the league MVP award and All-American Nik Ungs was named Pitcher of the Year.

The Panthers recorded back-to-back 30-plus win seasons in 2001 and 2002 for the first time in school history and set the school single-season record with 35 wins in 2001. Heller also coached two Academic All-Americans in Brunner and Travis Welch. Before taking over the Northern Iowa program prior to the 2000 season, Heller spent 12 years as a head coach at Upper Iowa University, a Division III institution. While at Upper Iowa, Heller recorded a 291-194-3 overall record and was named the Iowa Conference Coach of the Year four times.

Heller won his first conference championship in 1993 — the first for Upper Iowa in 20 years — while advancing to the NCAA Division III Regionals. His team won the Iowa Conference title and advanced to NCAA Regionals again in 1995, finishing 19th in the national rankings as Heller won his third Coach of the Year honor.

He repeated Coach of the Year honors again in 1996 when the Peacocks won the Iowa Conference and Central Regional to advance to the NCAA Division III College World Series. His team finished the year ranked sixth nationally and he was named NCAA Division III Central Region Coach of the Year.

In 1997, his team was ranked seventh nationally in the pre-season poll and won the Iowa Conference Tournament. In 1998, his team was ranked as high as 10th nationally while finishing with a 38-8 record to set a school record for winning percentage (.826). His final UNI team finished 30-15-1 and finished third in the Iowa Conference while setting five school records.

As a player at Upper Iowa from 1982-86, he was a four-year starter at shortstop and he also lettered in football and basketball. He is a member of the Upper Iowa Athletic Hall of Fame.

Heller is a member of the American Baseball Coaches Association and serves on the ASCA All-American Committee. He is also a member of the Indiana and Iowa High School Baseball Coaches Associations. In 2008, he was inducted into the Iowa High School Baseball Coaches Association Hall of Fame.

Heller has three daughters — Tara, Alyssa, and Wileene. His wife's name is Rachelle.

SCOTT BRICKMAN

Pitching Coach
Second Season
Northern Iowa, 1998

Scott Brickman is entering his second season as an assistant coach with the University of Iowa baseball program. Brickman serves as the Hawkeyes' pitching coach.

In his first season in Iowa City, Brickman helped guide the Hawkeyes to a 9-1 start — the program's best start since 1940 — a Big Ten Tournament berth and conference tournament win. Iowa finished the year with a 30-23 record for just the third 30-win season since 1993.

Brickman pieced together a mix-and-match pitching staff that was forced to battle through injuries throughout the season. Under Brickman's tutelage, Calvin Mathews became a front-of-the-line pitcher, posting a 3-3 record with a 2.72 ERA before going down with an injury, and walk-ons Jared Mandel (2-1, 2.70 ERA) and Tyler Radtke (2-2, 3.89 ERA, three saves) developed into major pieces in the Iowa bullpen.

Brickman also worked with sophomore right-hander Blake Hickman in his transition from catcher to the mound. Hickman went 2-2 with a 3.93 ERA in his first year as a pitcher, and he was the starter in game two at the Big Ten Tournament — a 2-1 Hawkeye victory.

Brickman also played a major role in helping Iowa secure the top-ranked recruiting class in the Big Ten Conference and 40th-best nationally by Perfect Game. Iowa signed a 13-player class for the 2016 season that includes the top-six players in the state of Iowa.

Brickman joined the Iowa coaching staff in 2013 after serving four seasons as head coach at NCAA Division II Belmont Abbey, where he led the Crusaders to a 104-82 record, a 2012 Conference Carolinas Western Division Championship, and a pair of top-25 national rankings — the first in school history. Brickman departed the school with the best winning percentage in the program's 22-year history.

In 2013, Brickman guided the Crusaders to a 27-17 record, and the squad earned a top-25 ranking during the regular season for the second time in program history. Five players garnered all-conference recognition, and pitcher Emilio Pagan was selected in the 10th round of the 2013 Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft, the program's highest draftee in its history.

Brickman led the Crusaders to the Conference Carolinas Western Division title in 2012 — the third crown in school history and first in more than a decade. Brickman coached Pagan to ABCA/NWCA All-America honors and two Crusaders earned all-conference and All-Southeast Regional honors. Steven Thiele was also dubbed as the Conference Male Academic Scholar Athlete of the Year for the second-straight season.

In his second season as head coach, Brickman led the Crusaders to an 11-win turnaround from his first season, winning 29 games and earning the first top-25 ranking in program history. Brickman coached six players to all-conference recognition and one All-Southeast Regional honoree. Three Crusaders also earned academic all-conference honors, and Thiele was the Conference's Male Academic Scholar Athlete of the Year.

From 2007-09, Brickman served as an assistant coach at Northern Iowa. In two seasons with the Panthers, five pitchers were drafted or signed by Major League Baseball organizations, accounting for 20 percent of the players drafted at UNI since 1962. During the 2008 season, Brickman helped guide the Panthers to 30 wins for just the fourth time in the school's 103-year history, while posting the fourth-best ERA (4.75) since the move to Division I in 1981.

Prior to returning to his alma mater, Brickman spent five seasons as an assistant coach at Wartburg College, where he coached two Freshman All-Americans and helped the Tornadoes win the 2007 Southern Conference Championship and an NCAA Tournament berth.

Brickman also served as head coach of the Florence Redwolves, a summer collegiate team in Florence, S.C. In 2004-05, the 2005 team advanced to the Coastal Plain League championship game and set the franchise record with 33 wins. Twelve of his players were drafted or signed by MLB teams, including 2006 first-round pick, Clemson University's Tyler Colvin.

From 2000-02, Brickman was an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator for Muscatine Community College. During his tenure, he saw three pitchers and 15 total players earn all-region honors, and four players were selected in the MLB Draft. Brickman also was an assistant coach at Wartburg College in 1996-99, helping the Knights win the Iowa Conference and advance to the 1999 NCAA Tournament.

As a pitcher at Wartburg Iowa, Brickman led the Panthers to a second-place finish in the Missouri Valley Conference in 1997, and he was a three-time named Missouri Valley Pitcher of the Week.

The Beaver, Iowa, native earned his bachelor's degree from Northern Iowa in 1996. He is married to the former Cassandra Moody, and they reside in North Liberty, Iowa.

MARTY SUTHERLAND

Assistant Coach/
Recruiting Coordinator
Second Season
Northern Iowa, 1998

Marty Sutherland is entering his second season as hitting coach and recruiting coordinator for the University of Iowa baseball program.

In his first season in Iowa City, Sutherland helped guide the Hawkeyes to a 9-1 start — the program's best start since 1940 — a Big Ten Tournament berth and conference tournament win. Iowa finished the year with a 30-23 record for just the third 30-win season since 1993.

Iowa's offense thrived under Sutherland, as the Hawkeyes led the Big Ten in four offensive categories (batting average, hits, runs and on-base percentage) and ranked second in four more (slugging percentage, RBIs, home runs and total bases). Iowa finished with 23 home runs — a season after the team had two long balls in 49 contests.

Five Iowa student-athletes garnered All-Big Ten recognition, the most for the program since 2007, which included first-team All-Big Ten shortstop Jake Yachinich. He was the first Hawkeye to earn a first-team nod since 2009.

Sutherland also played a major role in securing an Iowa recruiting class that ranks as the top class in the Big Ten Conference and 40th-best nationally by Perfect Game. Iowa signed a 13-player class for the 2016 season that includes the top-six ranked players in the state of Iowa.

Sutherland, a former player and coach under UI head coach Rick Heller at Northern Iowa, was an assistant for the Panthers from 2003-09, helping lead the team to 154 victories over six seasons. He coached 12 All-Missouri Valley Conference selections and an MVC Newcomer and Player of the Year honoree.

Sutherland also served as an assistant coach at Wartburg College during the 2002-03 season. Most recently, Sutherland was an assistant coach at Cascade (Iowa) High School and a hitting/fielding instructor at Bases Loaded Academy in Dubuque, Iowa.

Sutherland was an infielder at Northern Iowa during the 2001 and 2002 seasons, helping the team to its first back-to-back 30 win seasons in program history. He also played at Kirtwood Community College from 1998-2000.

During his two seasons in Cedar Falls, Sutherland batted .318 with 25 doubles and 29 stolen bases. He also finished his career with 64 RBIs.

In 2001, Sutherland was a second team All-MVC and second team All-Midwest region honoree after UNI won a school-record 35 games and claimed the Missouri Valley Conference Tournament title en route to the first NCAA Tournament berth in school history. Sutherland batted .349, and the Panthers finished 10th in the nation and led the MVC in hitting with a .333 batting average.

In 2002, UNI won 30 games and finished fourth in the Missouri Valley. The squad finished with a .327 batting average in conference games to lead the league.

The Cascade, Iowa, native earned his associate's degree from Kirtwood Community College in July, 2000, and his bachelor's degree from Northern Iowa in Dec., 2002.

JEFF CLEMENT

Volunteer Assistant Coach
First Season

Former Major League Baseball player Jeff Clement is entering his first season as volunteer assistant coach with the University of Iowa baseball program.

Clement spent parts of four seasons in MLB with the Seattle Mariners and Pittsburgh Pirates organizations as a catcher and first baseman before retiring in 2014.

Before being the No. 3 overall pick in the 2005 MLB Draft, Clement played three seasons at the University of Southern California. He finished his career as a .314 hitter in 171 career games, hitting 46 home runs, knocking in 150 RBIs and scoring 149 runs.

Clement closed out his Trojan career ranking second in career home runs (to Mark McGwire, 54), tied for seventh (with McGwire) in RBIs, tied for eighth in slugging percentage (.596) (with Morgan Ensberg) and 10th with 114 walks.

Following his final season at USC in 2005, Clement was the recipient of the Johnny Bench Award as the nation's top catcher and was a finalist for the Golden Spikes Award. He hit .348 with 17 doubles, 15 home runs, 54 RBIs and a .472 on-base percentage en route to Baseball America, USA Today Sports Weekly and Collegiate Baseball All-America first-team honors, while also being named to the NCBA/NA All-America third team.

In his first collegiate season in 2003, Clement was selected as the Collegiate Baseball Freshman National Co-Player of the Year, Pac-10 Conference Freshman of the Year, Baseball America Freshman All-America First Team and Collegiate Baseball Freshman All-America First Team. He led the Trojans in home runs (21), RBIs (53), runs (53), walks (32) and slugging percentage (.649).

Clement played for the U.S. National Team in 2003 and 2004, leading the Americans to the gold medal at the SISU II World University Baseball Championships in Taiwan in 2004. He was also selected as the MVP for Team USA during the 33rd Annual USA vs. Japan Collegiate All-Star Series.

Clement was born and raised in Marshalltown, Iowa, where he led his hometown team to the 1996 Little League World Series. As a prep at Marshalltown High School, he hit 75 career home runs to break the national high school record — a mark he holds to this day.

Clement studied communications during his three years at USC in California, and he is currently working to finish his degree through an online program through the University of Alabama. He and his wife, Lindsay, have four children, Jake, Ben, Abbie, and Leah.

DESI DRUSCHEL

Director of Baseball Operations
First Season
Mount Mercy, 1998

Desi Druschel is entering his first season as the University of Iowa baseball program's director of baseball operations and director of Iowa baseball camps. Druschel joined the Hawkeyes after serving as head coach at Mount Mercy University in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, for nine years.

During his tenure with the Mustangs, Druschel won 172 games, advanced to a pair of NAIA Region VII Tournaments and posted two conference runner-up and two third-place finishes. He coached three honorable mention All-Americans, 22 all-conference selections and 12 Gold Glove honorees.

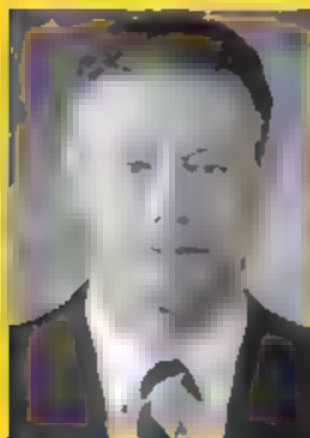

Druschel also coached three NAIA Scholar Athletes, three all-region scholar athletes and 33 academic all-conference selections. Druschel initially joined the Mount Mercy staff prior to the 2005 season as an assistant coach before being promoted to the head position a year later.

Druschel has also served as head coach at The Franciscan University (now Ashford University) in Clinton, Iowa, from 2001-04, where he helped the Saints set 45 school records. He also was an assistant at Mount St. Clare College (2000-01), Indiana University (1999-00), and Vinton-Shellsburg (Iowa) High School (1996-2000) during his coaching career.

Druschel, a member of the American Baseball Coaches and Iowa High School Baseball Coaches Associations, played baseball and basketball collegiately at Upper Iowa and Mount Mercy from 1994-98.

The Vinton, Iowa, native graduated from Mount Mercy with a bachelor's degree in management in 1994, and he earned his master's degree in athletic administration from Indiana in 2001. He and his wife, Jessica, have two children, Jace and Halle.

GARY BARTA ATHLETICS DIRECTOR

Gary Barta is entering his ninth year as director of athletics at the University of Iowa and his 27th year as a university leader.

The 2014-15 athletics season at the UI will build on significant momentum gained a year ago as a result of multiple successes competitively, academically, and in community impact displayed by Iowa coaches, student-athletes, and administrators. Last year also included record-setting fundraising support and corporate participation, as well as the completion of facility construction projects critical to the long-term success of the Iowa Hawkeyes.

Program and success on the fields, courts, tracks, and mats was significant in 2013-14. A return to participation in a postseason bowl game by the Iowa football team, a return to the NCAA Tournament by the UI's men's basketball team, a 4th place national finish in wrestling, the seventh straight NCAA Tournament appearance by Iowa women's basketball, an invitation to the postseason Big Ten Tournament by the Hawkeye baseball team, postseason NCAA competition for Iowa's men's golf, and the UI's track and field men's and women's track and field teams, and a historic first time invitation to the NCAA Tournament for women's soccer highlighted the 2013-14 year competitively for the UI.

In fact, only six other programs in the country in addition to the UI had its football team appear in a New Year's Day bowl, and both its men's and women's basketball teams compete in the NCAA Tournament.

Academic success by the more than 600 student-athletes who participate in 24 sport programs has always been one of the very highest priorities at the University of Iowa and remains so today under Barta's direction. That commitment to the "student" in "student-athlete" resulted in a record-setting

NCAA Graduation Success Rate (GSR) of 88, a mark that was a full seven percentage points better than the national average. The GSRs for Iowa's football (81), men's basketball (88), and women's basketball (91) all hosted the national averages for their sport: 78, 68, and 86, respectively.

In addition, the NCAA's 2013 graduation report also revealed that Iowa's federal graduation rate of 72 was seven points better than its peers nationally and two points better than its peers on the UI campus. Paced by all-time high Academic Progress Report (APR) scores in nine sports programs, all of the UI's intercollegiate athletics programs were determined by the NCAA in spring 2014 to be achieving at a rate academically that surpassed the national benchmark.

Barta also believes strongly that his staff and student-athletes contribute to the community. That commitment manifests itself in literally thousands of hours of community service annually. The Hawkeyes' efforts in 2013-14 include a leadership role in "Holey on Parade," the largest public art program staged in the state of Iowa which the UI Athletics Department executes in cooperation with the Iowa City Coralville Convention and Visitors Bureau. It is anticipated that the Parade will bring tens of thousands of visitors to the greater UI, Iowa City, Coralville, and North Liberty community this spring, summer, and fall, and a six-figure contribution to the United Way of Johnson County and the United Way of Washington County when the project is completed.

The UI Athletics Department also stages an annual "Day of Caring" each April where student-athletes of all 24 of the UI's sports teams provide assistance to a wide variety of not-for-profit organizations. The UI football program also stages annually the Iowa Ladies Football Academy. That effort has generated more than $1 million of support for the new University of Iowa Children's Hospital.

These are two of the most public annual activities of community support by the Hawkeyes, who also make regular visits to the UI Hospitals and Clinics, and local elementary schools.

A closer look at the 2013-14 athletics year reveals the following successes:

- Ben Bailey's Iowa women's soccer team opened its season with eight straight victories, advanced to the championship game of the 2013 Big Ten Soccer Tournament, and received the first invitation to the postseason national championship in school history. The Hawkeyes also established a school record for attendance when more than 1,500 were on hand for Iowa's 3-0 victory over Iowa State in the annual Iowa Corn Cy-Hawk Series match.

• Kirk Ferentz's Iowa football team doubled its win total from the previous season, won three "Trophy Games" — the Iowa Corn Cy-Hawk Series, Floyd of Rosedale, and the Hy-Vee Maroon Game — all on the road, and ended the regular season with victories over Michigan and at Nebraska en route to an invitation to the 2014 Outback Bowl. It marked the 12th bowl game and seventh January bowl game under Ferentz and signaled a return to the national stage for the Hawkeyes. It also came with an extra bonus: The Hawkeyes traveled to Tampa as one of just 17 bowl-bound college football teams with a Graduation Success Rate (GSR) greater than 80 (Iowa's was 81) and as the highest ranked Big Ten team participating in a bowl game, according to GSR.

• Lisa Bluder's Iowa women's basketball team won a school-record-tying 27 games — including 14 on Mediacom Court in Carver-Hawkeye Arena en route to its seventh straight appearance in the NCAA Tournament, a number that only 13 other programs across the country can match. Postseason play was particularly fun for the Hawkeyes: Iowa won three games to advance to the championship game of the 2014 Big Ten Tournament and won its first round game in NCAA Tournament play for the second straight season.

• Fran McCaffery continued his revitalization of the UI's men's basketball program by guiding the Hawkeyes to their first NCAA Tournament in seven years. The Hawkeyes won 20 or more games for the second straight season and climbed as high as 18th in the national rankings. The Hawkeyes' 2013-14 season came to an official close in June when Deryn Marble was selected in the second round of the NBA Draft. Marble became the first Hawkeye to be selected in the draft since Adam Haluska's selection in 2007.

• Jean Brands' Iowa wrestling team crowned one national champion and had six Hawkeyes earn All-American status en route to a fourth place finish at the 2014 national championship.

• Rick Heller surprised the country by guiding the Hawkeye baseball team to 30 victories and participation in the 2014 Big Ten Baseball Tournament — in his first season as the UI's head coach. It was Iowa's first appearance in the league's postseason tournament in four years. Five Hawkeyes were named All-Big Ten and three were selected in the 2014 Major League Baseball Draft.

• Mark Hershiser's men's golf squad made it six straight postseason invitations when the Hawkeyes were sent to participate in the 2014 NCAA Regional in Columbia, Mo. The Hawkeyes advanced on the strength of a regular season that included three first-place finishes and a third-place finish at the 2014 Big Ten Conference Championship, a performance that included the low team score for the event's final round.

• Long-time director of track Larry Wierczek announced his retirement the week before Iowa sent 11 student-athletes to compete in eight different events at the 2014 NCAA Division I Track and Field Championships. The Hawkeyes responded with all earning All-American status including senior Zimmie Miller, who was honored for her efforts in the long jump and triple jump, and freshman Brittany Brown, who was honored for her status in the 200-meter race as a member of Iowa's 400-meter relay team.

The year was also busy administratively for Barta with the hiring of a new deputy director of athletics — Gene Taylor, the long-time director of athletics at North Dakota State University who began his career at the United States Naval Academy — the hiring of Iowa City native David Shymanski to lead the UI volleyball program, another Iowa City native, Joey Woody, to fill the vacancy created by the departure of Wierczek, and Dave Blum, the long-time coach of NCAA Division II women's soccer powerhouse Grand Valley State to lead the Hawkeyes.

Shymanski has had tremendous success since beginning his coaching career at City High School in Iowa City, most recently as the head coach at Marquette. Woody, a four-time All-American and world champion, has played an instrumental role in Iowa's recent success in the track as an associated head coach for track and field for the Hawkeyes. Blum completed a 221-18-18 record at GVSU, guiding the Lakers to three NCAA Division II national championships and seven Final Four appearances in the last eight seasons.

The Hawkeyes' success academically and in competition also fueled interest in the Hawkeyes to levels matched by less than a handful of Iowa's peers. The UI is one of only four programs in the country to have its football, men's basketball, and women's basketball programs all rank among the nation's Top 25 in attendance.

Iowa also once again led the nation in attendance for wrestling and continues to rank among the leaders in Facebook and Twitter measures, and also traffic in its official world wide web site, hawkeyesports.com. In fact, 2013-14 was the busiest athletics year in the history of hawkeyesports.com in terms of unique visitors (4.3 million) and the second highest number of total pages downloaded (22.8 million).

Barta and his staff have successfully leveraged the burgeoning interest in the Hawkeyes to drive fundraising and corporate support of the UI Athletics Department to record levels. Private gifts to the National I-Club for annual giving and support of capital projects exceeded $28 million in 2013-14. Participation in the offerings of Hawkeye Sports Properties, the exclusive multi-media partner of the UI Athletics Department, resulted in a record $6.1 million of revenue in 2013-14.

These sources of income help Barta to fund an $85 million annual operations budget, a budget that is 100 percent self-generated — the UI receives no state tax dollars to operate its intercollegiate athletics program — and balanced in spite of scholarship costs that will easily exceed $10 million in 2014-15. The UI Athletics Department also is responsible for such things as medical expenses for its student-athletes ($800,000 in 2013-14), the cost of utilities to operate its facilities ($400,000 last year), and, of course, salaries and benefits for the more 200 full-time employees.

Barta has also used private and corporate support to enhance the infrastructure used by Iowa's sports programs. For example, the Hawkeye football program will move into the $55 million state-of-the-art Richard B. Jacobson Football Operations Building that includes the Stew and LeMore Hansen Football Performance Center in late summer. To date, more than $35 million of private support has been generated for this important project.

Completion of the home of the nationally ranked Iowa football program will mean the UI Athletics Department will have invested more than $220 million in construction and renovation under Barta's leadership. The list of projects completed under Barta's direction includes an investment in technology at historic Kinnick Stadium that includes a new sound system to be installed prior to the 2014 season, construction of the Hoak Family Golf Complex, the revitalization of Carver-Hawkeye Arena, construction of the P. Sue Beckwith, M.D., Basketball, the UI Athletics Department's contribution to the construction of the Campus Recreation and Wellness Center, replacement of the turf at Grant Field, installation of artificial turf at Duane Banks Field, and resurfacing of the outdoor courts at the Hawkeye Tennis and Recreation Complex.

The work is not complete, however. The UI Athletics Department this fall will begin installation of a new videowall, outfield fence, and artificial turf in the outfield of Duane Banks Field. Barta and his team are busy investigating the finalization of a master facilities plan that includes the expansion of "Hawkeye Campus," the current home of the Iowa field hockey and soccer programs, UI Sports Medicine, the UI Athletics Hall of Fame and Museum, a new indoor turf facility that also includes an outdoor surface to be used as the practice field for the Hawkeye Marching Band, and the Hawkeye Tennis and Recreation Complex located on the far western edge of the UI's campus adjacent to the UI's Fiddlone Golf Course and near the UI's Ashton Cross Country Course.

Barta's involvement in the UI campus and the greater Iowa City communities extends far beyond his position as director of the UI's intercollegiate athletics programs. He is a member of the President's Cabinet, comprised of vice presidents and other campus leaders that provide counsel to UI President Sally Mason. That group was instrumental in the UI's response to record-setting flooding that besieged the campus and the Iowa City and Coralville community in June 2008 and will be directly involved in positioning the UI for growth in the immediate and long-term future as the institution adjusts to a shift in the funding model used by the State of Iowa's Board of Regents.

Barta also represents the UI and the Hawkeyes at the conference and national level. During his tenure at the UI, he has participated in the creation and implementation of the Big Ten Network, the expansion of the Big Ten Conference and realignment of athletics conferences nationally, and the Big Ten's postseason bowl game agreements that were successfully implemented in 2010.

Barta remains active on the Conference and NCAA level. He is involved in committee work with NCAA Football, the Division IA Athletic Directors Association, and is an ongoing participant in the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA).

Barta is also involved in a variety of community groups, including the United Way of Johnson County and the Partnership for Alcohol Safety, a joint effort between UI campus leaders and the City of Iowa City.

Barta often suggests to his staff that "Hope is not a strategy," which is why the Department has just completed a comprehensive review and rewriting of the strategic plan for the UI Athletics Department and continues to work with the UI's leadership on a long-term financial plan.

As the director of athletics at the University of Wyoming for three years, seven different UW coaches were named Mountain West Conference Coach of the Year. He also spearheaded a fund-raising effort that netted the Cowboy athletics program $11 million in private support and $11 million in matching state fund.

As the senior associate athletics director at the University of Washington, he directed the "Campaign for the Student-Athlete," was a participant in the design, construction and/or renovation of several UW athletics facilities, including Bank of America Arena and the Dampney Indoor Practice Facility. In addition to almost doubling the amount of annual private support received by UW, Barta also managed the department's external relations division, a task that included corporate sponsorship and radio contracts.

His responsibilities at Washington expanded over time to include hiring of coaching and administrative staff, and the day-to-day oversight of several Huskie sport teams.

The roots of his development experience extend to his first two positions: director of development at his alma mater, North Dakota State University, and director of athletics development and external relations at the University of Northern Iowa.

Barta earned a Bachelor of Science degree in mass communication and broadcast journalism from NDSD in 1987. He was an option quarterback for Bison football squads that won the Division II NCAA National Championship in 1983, 1985 and 1986.

Barta, and his wife, Connie, have a son, Luke (16) and a daughter, Madison (14). He was born Sept. 4, 1963, in Minneapolis.

IOWA CONTINUES TO BUILD FOR SUCCESS

The UI Department of Athletics is under the direction of Gary Barta and is regarded as one of the top intercollegiate programs in the nation. Once again, the Hawkeyes enjoyed success both athletically and academically in 2013-14.

Academically, the UI's federal graduation rate of 72 percent (for student-athletes who enrolled in the fall of 2006), meaning UI student-athletes have graduated at a rate of 70 percent or better in four of the last five years. That mark was two points better than the UI student body and seven points better than achieved by student-athletes nationally. For the fifth consecutive year, all 24 of Iowa's teams exceeded the Academic Progress Rate (APR) benchmark and the program posted a record 88 percent in the NCAA's "Graduation Success Rate." It is the eighth time in nine years of the GSR's existence that Iowa's student-athletes scored 80 percent or better.

Athletically, Hawkeye teams enjoyed another outstanding year in 2013-14, as a significant number of Iowa's 24 programs reached postseason play. The Iowa football team played in the 2014 Outback Bowl, the UI men's basketball team advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2006, the women's basketball team competed in the NCAA Tournament for the seventh straight season and the wrestling team finished fourth at the NCAA Championships.

In March 2014, the UI rolled out the new AstroTurf infield playing surface, marking the beginning of the stadium's transformation at Duane Banks Field. The project will continue this fall with the installation of turf in the outfield, a video board and new scoreboard at the facility. Iowa dedicated the 4,200-square-foot James M. Hoak Family Golf Complex, a state-of-the-art golf facility in 2013, a project that came on the heels of the completion of a $47 million revitalization of Carver-Hawkeye Arena in the summer of 2011.

After completing phase I of the project for the UI football program in August, 2012 — a new indoor practice facility — the second phase will be finished this fall. Phase II includes construction of the new Iowa Football Operations Center, which will include new team locker rooms, team meeting rooms, athletic medical training space, video operations, and coaches offices and meeting rooms. Funded entirely through private support and revenue generated by the UI Athletics Department, the project is an important next phase of the master facilities plan for Hawkeye football.

IOWA FOOTBALL

The Iowa football team posted an 8-5 record in 2013, which included a berth in the 2014 Outback Bowl. The Hawkeyes placed second in the Big Ten's Legends Division and they were one of six BCS conference teams to improve by four victories or more from the 2012 season.

IOWA WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

UI head coach Lisa Bluder guided the Hawkeye women's basketball team to its seventh-straight NCAA Tournament in 2013-14. The Hawkeyes advanced to the Round of 32 following an opening-round victory over Miami and finished 27-9 overall. The 27 victories were tied for the second-most in program history and were the most since 1996. Iowa is the only Big Ten team to appear in seven consecutive NCAA tournaments and one of 14 schools nationally.

Iowa was one of seven schools nationally to have its football team play in a Jan. 1 bowl game and have both its men's and women's basketball teams reach the NCAA Tournament during the 2013-14 school year.

IOWA WRESTLING

The UI wrestling team — the national attendance leader in each of the last eight seasons — finished fourth at the NCAA Championships. Five Hawkeyes earned All-America accolades in 2014, including 133-pound national champion Tony Barnes and Derek St. John, who became the 18th Iowa wrestler to be a four-time All-American. Iowa has claimed 23 national championships since 1975 and 34 Big Ten titles in its history.

IOWA WOMEN'S SOCCER

The Iowa soccer team won a school-record 15 contests in 2013, won its first two postseason games in program history en route to the championship game of the Big Ten Tournament and made the program's first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance.

IOWA MEN'S BASKETBALL

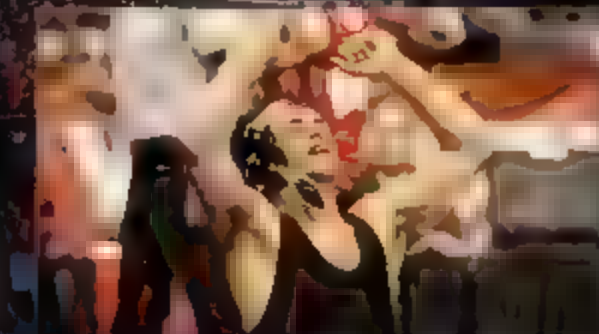

Fourth-year head coach Fran McCaffery led Iowa to its second-straight 20-win season and guided the team to the NCAA Tournament — its first berth since 2006. Guard Roy Bivyn Marble earned first-team All-Big Ten recognition and became the first Hawkeye since 2007 to have his name called in the NBA Draft.

IOWA MEN'S GOLF

Head coach Mark Hawkins led the Hawkeyes to their sixth-straight NCAA Regional appearance in 2014 and four student-athletes garnered all-region honors. After rounding out his eligibility, Steven Ihm made his professional debut at the John Deere Classic, made the cut and tied for 27th in his first event as a professional.

IOWA BASEBALL

The Iowa baseball team won 30 games — the most victories since 2010 — in Rick Heller's first season as head coach. The Hawkeyes advanced to and won a game in the Big Ten Tournament and had five All-Big Ten and ten WABC All-Region selections. Three players were selected in the 2014 MLB Draft.

"I chose to attend the University of Iowa because of its beautiful campus and academically, the university has one of the top schools for education. A degree from Iowa will be a great thing. Athletically, I became a Hawkeye because of the family feel within the program and the coaching staff is one of the best in the country."

JOEL BOOKER - Junior - Columbus, Ohio

"I chose the University of Iowa because I felt the program had an exceptional coaching staff and baseball atmosphere. I know I will get a quality education at the UI and the program will also prepare me to pursue a career in baseball. I believe this is the best decision I have ever made."

AUSTIN GAZZO - Freshman - Brantford, Ontario, Canada

"I chose Iowa because I felt the coaches have mentored me the most. They showed the most interest and they were there from day one. When I came on my official visit I loved the Iowa City environment. The students and the campus were amazing. The education also played a big part in my decision. In four years having a degree from the University of Iowa will be an advantage. I know I've made the right decision and I feel Iowa will help my game improve, and I will become a better person at the end."

BLAKE HICKMAN - Junior - Chicago, Ill.

"I chose Iowa because I felt comfortable with the coaches and the staff around the Iowa baseball program as a whole. I also knew the campus before coming on my visit with my brother playing at Iowa as well. Seeing my brother (Justin Toole) succeed and get better sided my decision because I knew I would improve and learn new skills from the coaches. Iowa felt right for me."

ERIC TOOLE - Senior - Council Bluffs, Iowa

"I chose to attend the University of Iowa because I have always dreamt of being a Hawkeye. The opportunity to get a great education, along with being able to compete at the Division I level as a Hawkeye is something you do not pass up."

TYLER PETHOM - Junior - Galena, Iowa

"Growing up a Hawkeye fan, it is now a dream come true to sign with the University of Iowa. Being the only Division I college baseball team in Iowa, you represent the entire state. Having the opportunity to earn a degree from the University of Iowa is an absolute honor."

JOHN MARTSCHING - Redshirt Sophomore - Bloomfield, Iowa

The second phase of the Duane Banks Field renovation was completed in 2013 when Astroturf replaced the outfield grass and warning track. The infield was changed to the surface prior to the 2014 season meaning there is now zero dirt or natural grass at the Hawkeyes' home venue.

Phase II renovations also included the installation of a state-of-the-art videoboard in right center field and a new padded wall on the outfield fence and down the foul lines.

With the first two phases complete, Phase III calls for brand new stadium seating and a new press box to be constructed surrounding the existing playing field.

The facility was renamed as Duane Banks Baseball Field in honor of the Hawkeyes' former head coach in 2001. Banks, the winningest coach in Iowa history, served as Iowa's head baseball coach from 1970-1997.

Banks Field was originally built in 1974. The 3,000-seat stadium had dimensions of 330 feet down the lines, 375 in the power alleys and 400 to centerfield. That has decreased slightly and currently sits at 329 down the lines and 395 to centerfield.

In 2002, former Hawkeye and former Major League Cal Eldred donated $245,000 to fund the installation of lights at Banks Field.

The complex at Banks Field features locker rooms for both teams and umpires and a press box that was initially built in 1969 and renovated in 2002.

The Hawkeyes utilize the Indoor Practice Facility located directly south of Banks Field throughout the winter and a hitting-only facility is located off the Johnson Building adjacent to Banks Field. Iowa also utilizes a second turf facility on the campus' west side.

The Hawkeyes added the Jacobson Hitting Facility in January, 2015, a facility that is located adjacent to Duane Banks Field. The facility has four drop-down batting cages, as well as additional nets for tee work. Self-feeding machines, bats, equipment, and areas for front toss are available for student-athletes to utilize in their training. The facility is available for players to get extra repetitions at their convenience.

The UI Athletics Department also added a second indoor facility Iowa Turf at the WTCG, which gives the Hawkeyes a second location for practice during the winter months. Both the Indoor Practice Facility and Iowa Turf have drop-down batting cages and give the team a first-class practice facilities.

In addition to their main locker room inside the UI Recreation Building, the Hawkeyes have a clubhouse in the bowels of Duane Banks Field, which was renovated in the fall of 2014.

Duane Banks, following 28 years as Iowa's head baseball coach retired from coaching following the 1997 season.

Banks was inducted into the 2011 UI Hall of Fame. Banks led the Hawkeyes to its only College World Series appearance in 1972 and won Big Ten Championships in 1972 and 1990, as well as a share of the Big Ten crown in 1974. In 1981, Banks led Iowa to 44 wins, the most in school history. He earned Big Ten Conference and District Coach of the Year honors in 1990 and was inducted into the American Baseball Coaches Hall of Fame in 1991. Banks posted a career record of 901-585-4, while coaching six All-Americans, 31 all-Big Ten selections, 33 Academic All-Americans and 57 players who signed professional contracts. In the fall of 2001, Iowa's home field was officially designated as the Duane Banks Baseball Field.

In 1990, Banks led Iowa to a Big Ten title and to the NCAA playoffs for the first time since 1975. The 1990 squad won a record 22 Big Ten games and placed a record-tying five players (Tim Costo, John DeJord, Chris Hatcher, Keith Noren and Brian Vojcik) on the all-Big Ten squad.

Many of his former Hawkeyes have earned pro contracts and five—Mike Reddick, Cal Eldred, Jim Sundberg, Tim Costo and Jeff Jones—made it to the major leagues. Tim Costo was the eighth pick overall in 1990 draft, marking the second straight season Banks produced a first round draft choice. Eldred was selected in the first round by Milwaukee in 1989. Fifty-seven of Banks' former players signed pro contracts.

Banks served as an assistant coach for half a season at Iowa. The Hawkeyes won their final 27 games under his direction. Duane's next club was 28 games at Iowa, an Iowa record, in his first full campaign (1971).

Banks' 1972 team won Big Ten and District Four Championships to earn a berth in the College World Series, claiming Iowa's first outright Big Ten title in 33 years. In 1990, Banks was named District Coach of the year.

Banks became Iowa's all-time winningest coach in 1986, passing Hall of Famer Vern Vogel, who won 440 games in 35 years. He joined the Iowa staff as an assistant coach in 1963, after serving in the same capacity at Colorado State. He spent two summers at Parsons (NJ) College, compiling a 91-10 mark in 1967-68. He was an assistant coach at Parsons in 1966.

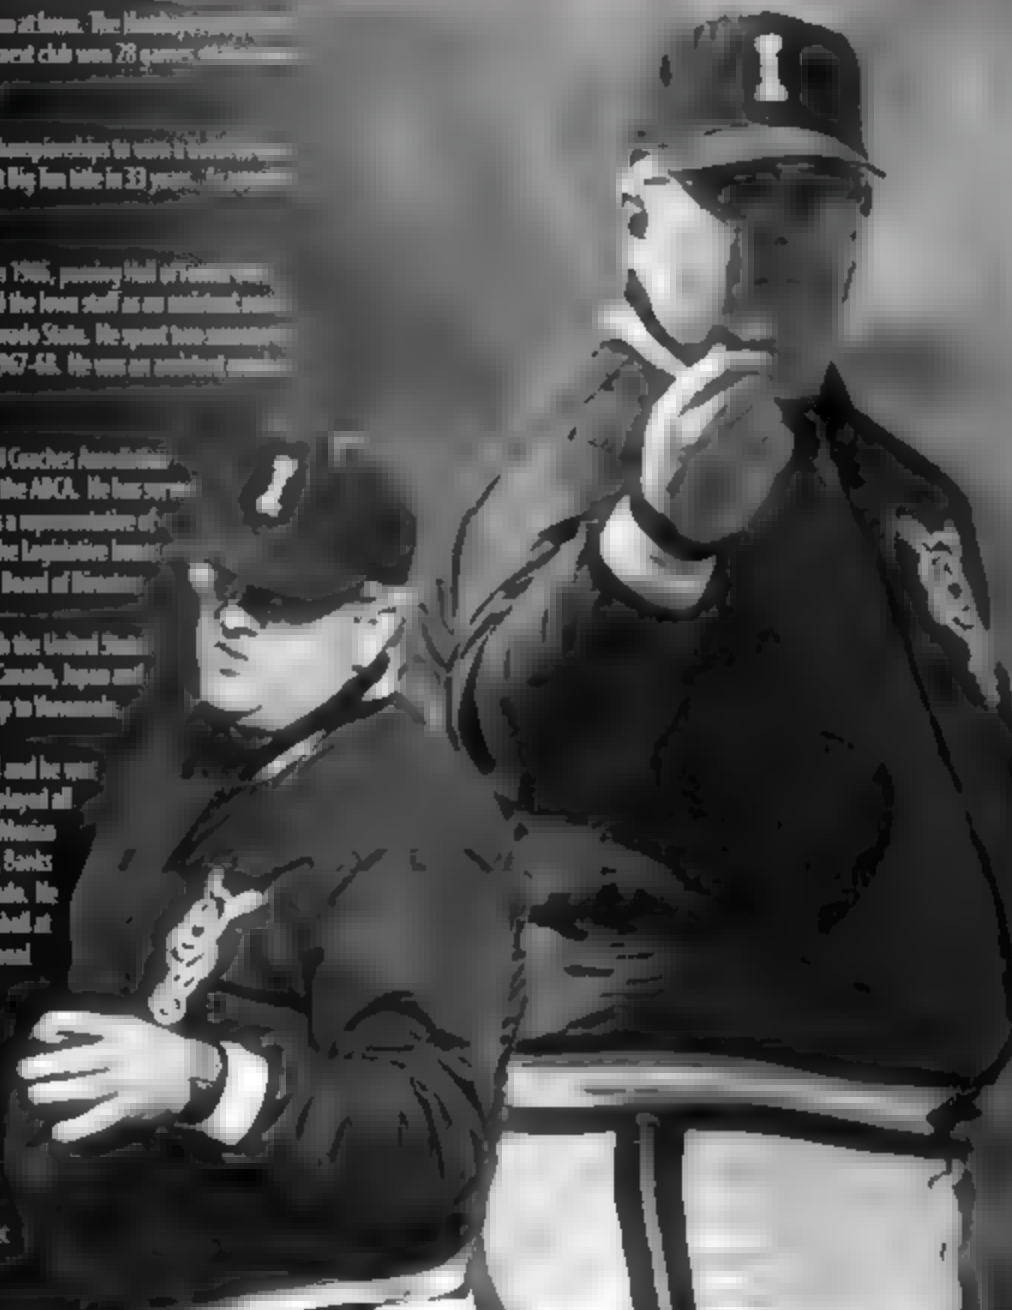

Banks is a past president of the American Baseball Coaches Association and has held a number of administrative posts in the ABCA. He has served as chairman of the NCAA Division I coaches and as a representative of District Four. A member of the Hall of Fame and the Legislative Iowa Coaches Association, Banks is a past member of the ABCA Board of Directors.

Banks was active in international baseball through the United States Baseball Federation. He took an all-star team to Canada, Japan and Korea in 1985 and coached another squad on a trip to Venezuela.

Banks and his Iowa team went to Holland in 1984 and he was on the staff of the USA college all-star team that played all over the world in 1982. He took an Iowa team to Mexico in the mid-1970s. A native of Grand Junction, CO, Banks played baseball and basketball at Northern Colorado. He was all-league and all-district three times in baseball at Northern Colorado and played one year of professional baseball with the Atlanta Braves organization in 1964.

Banks attended Mesa (CO) Junior College, received his bachelor's degree from Northern Colorado in 1965 and his master's degree from Colorado State in 1968.

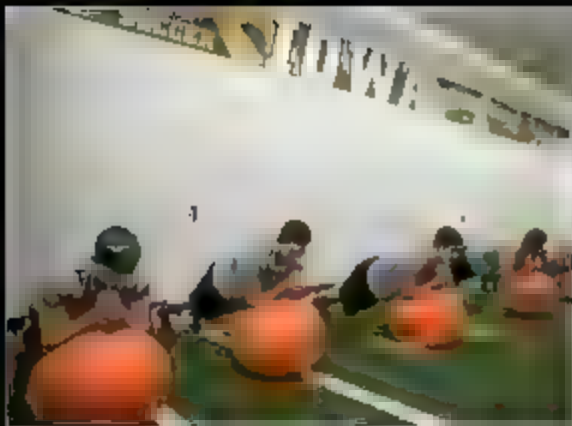

Duane and his wife, Jeanette, have two sons, Scott and Kirk and a grandson NRe.

Coaching Record (28 years)

Iowa baseball will work very hard to improve our game on the field by getting stronger, more explosive off of it, in the weight room and by improving fitness levels and techniques of speed, agility, and quickness. We will give ourselves the best chance to put the best team on the field by analyzing weaknesses and movement patterns of current players to minimize down time due to injury. Along the way, we will create championship level habits and discipline. We truly believe that success is a culmination of the right stuff on and off the field.

We have four goals in our strength and conditioning program:

1) INCREASE ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE

- Improve your game with better speed and explosive power
- Throw and hit harder, run faster by developing a strong and explosive lower body and core.

2) DECREASE RATE OF INJURY

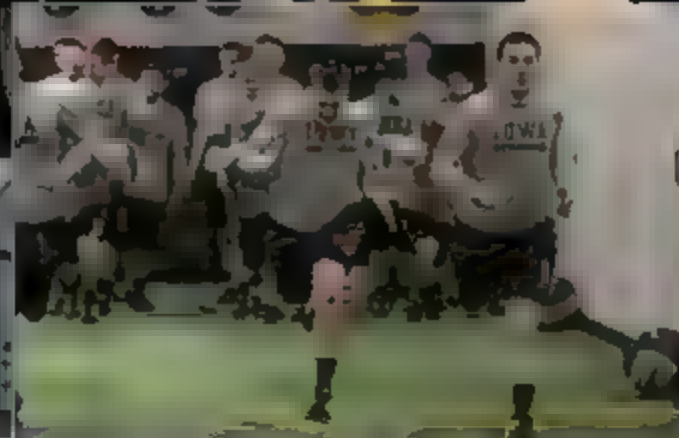

- Significantly reduce your risk of joint and tendon injuries.
- Build the right strength and flexibility in the upper body to create not only better arm strength but healthier arms and shoulders.

3) INCREASE SELF CONFIDENCE

- There is a certain confidence in knowing you have prepared yourself and given yourself a chance to be successful.

4) IMPROVE MENTAL TOUGHNESS

- We will not be distracted and will develop the ability to focus on the task at hand and not be deterred by every day highs and lows.

DONALD W. & MARILYN HEINEKING BASEBALL SCHOLARSHIP

Don Heineking established the Donald W. and Marilyn Heineking Baseball Scholarship in 2004. Don is a long-time supporter of Iowa athletics, a member of the Johnson County I-Club Board of Directors and member of the Iowa Scholarship Fund Board of Directors. In 2002, Don and Marilyn established scholarships in football and women's basketball. Then, in 2003, they added a wrestling scholarship and men's basketball manager's scholarship. Most recently, they added baseball, softball and volleyball scholarships.

Don lives in Iowa City and is a member of the President's Club of the UI Foundation. Marilyn passed away in February of 2004.

CAL ELDRÉD LIGHTS FUND

Cal Eldred lit up Hawkeye baseball once again, instead of employing his expert pitching, the former Major League Baseball star and his wife, Christi, made a gift to fund the installation of lights at Iowa's Duane Banks Field. The Cedar Rapids couple gave $245,000 for the installation of lights at the baseball field named after Cal Eldred's former coach.

The gift, the largest ever from a current professional athlete's family to Iowa athletics, allowed the project to be completed in Sept. 2001. The Hawkeyes won the first night game played at Banks Field, April 10, 2002, against Northern Illinois, 11-9. The University of Iowa officially dedicated the lights Sat., April 13, 2002.

The Eldreds said their desire to give back to Iowa and to honor former Hawkeye coaches Duane Banks and Scott Braghamer — who they said are their good friends and longtime mentors — as reasons for making the gift. The gift was commemorated by a plaque at the field.

Cal Eldred, who grew up in Urbana and attended Iowa for three years before being drafted by the Milwaukee Brewers in 1989, said, "My experience at Iowa helped shape me as a player and person. Coach Banks has stayed involved in my life and has always been there for me. I couldn't be happier about making this gift for Hawkeye baseball. I hope others will consider helping out however they can."

MIKE BODDICKER SCHOLARSHIP

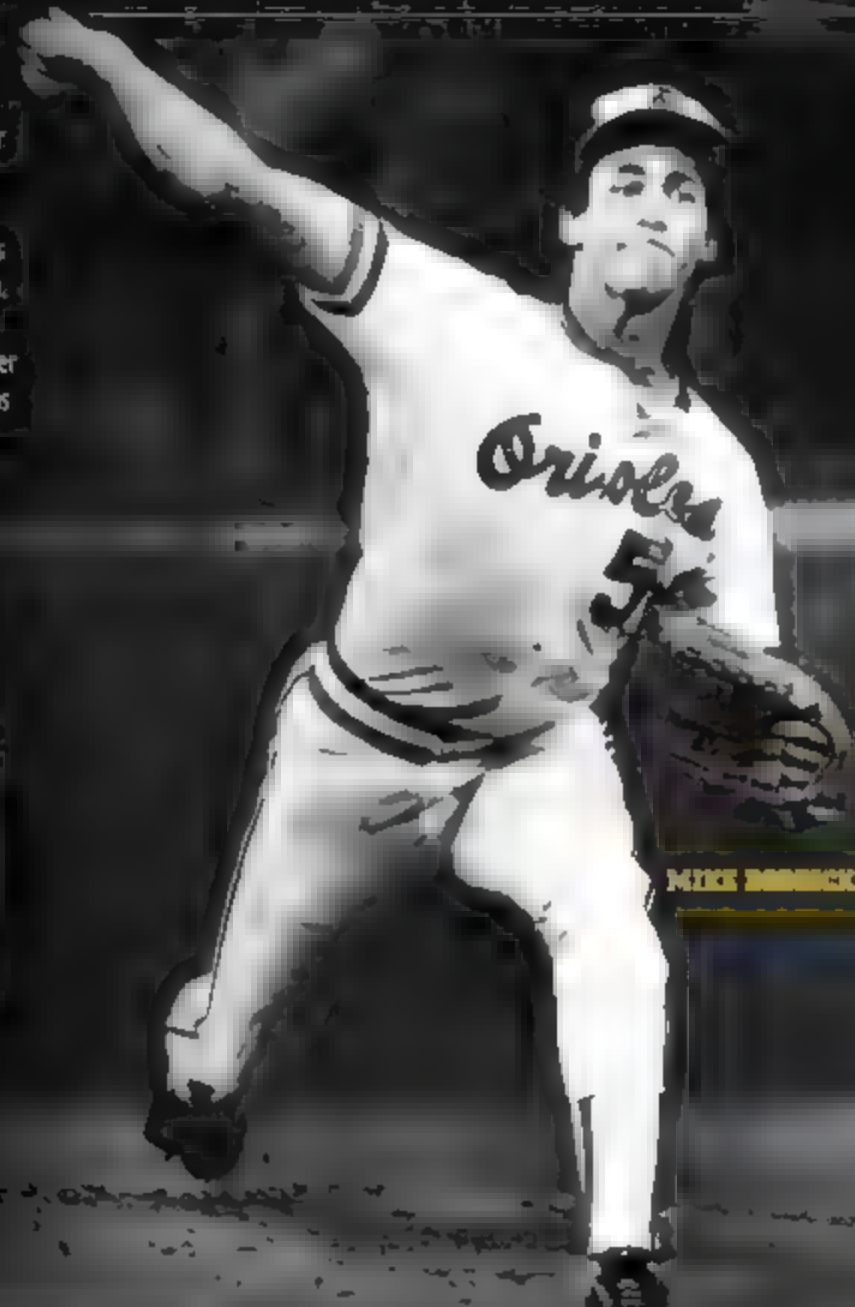

MIKE BODDICKER FAMILY

Former Iowa standout Mike Boddicker, and his family, have established the Mike Boddicker Scholarship. The scholarship goes each year to a member of the Iowa baseball team who is in good academic standing and displays outstanding character and personality.

Boddicker, a native of Norway, Iowa, earned All-Big Ten honors as a pitcher and infielder during his Hawkeye career (1976-78). In 1983, he was named the American League "Rookie of the Year." After pitching in the major leagues for 11 years, Boddicker retired in 1993. He played for the Baltimore Orioles and Kansas City Royals.

Ten University of Iowa graduate programs and colleges ranked among the 10 best in the nation.

U.S. News & World Report's America's Best Graduate Schools, 2013

With over 30,000 students in a city of roughly 75,000, UI offers a different atmosphere than many other universities in the Big Ten or the Midwest.

The unemployment rate in Iowa City (4.9%) ranks among the nation's lowest.
(May, 2012).

Building on a rich tradition of excellence and innovation, the University of Iowa is educating more than 30,000 students annually, preparing them for success immediately following graduation, as well as continued achievements throughout their lives.

The University of Iowa offers more than 100 areas of undergraduate and graduate study, including seven professional degree programs, through its 11 colleges: the colleges of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Business, Dentistry, Education, Engineering, Law, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy and Public Health, and the Graduate College. The University also provides on-campus and distance learning opportunities through its division of Continuing Education.

Being recognized as one of the nation's leading centers for the arts, creative writing, exercise physiology, basic health and science research, and communication studies, the University of Iowa is also developing new strengths in informatics, nanoscience, simulation technology, and other fields.

The University of Iowa has maintained its tradition as an innovator in research work in speech pathology, science and medicine. Internationally, UI being home of one of the nation's largest university owned hospitals.

Diversity at the University of Iowa

The University of Iowa has worked hard to assure that students of all ages, genders, and backgrounds are represented in the student body. Over the years, Iowa has moved aggressively towards its goal of creating communities of African American, Hispanic/Latino (a), Native American, and Native American students, and making the University a stimulating, welcoming place.

The Center for Diversity and Inclusion is a coordinated university-wide resource for creating and maintaining this campus diversity and providing opportunities for all University students interested in other cultures. Scholarships, fellowships, and support programs help to make this possible. International Programs brings together scholars from around the world and UI students looking to expand their perspectives by studying abroad or exploring global issues on campus. International students at the University of Iowa represent more than 100 countries.

CONSIDER THE COMMUNITY

Some universities offer the large city atmosphere. Others offer the college town experience. The University of Iowa is uniquely situated to offer student athletes the very best of both of these different worlds.

Once the state capital, Iowa City is considered one of the truly great college towns in America. The city swells with excitement on game day when nearly 16,000 Hawkeye fans from across the state and Midwest converge on Carver-Hawkeye Arena to cheer the Hawkeyes to another victory.

Iowa City's downtown area is alive and thriving. Restaurants, shops and sidewalk cafes face onto pedestrian malls full of people watchers, street entertainers and food vendors.

Attractive in size and friendliness, Iowa City is big in the sense that it offers all the advantages and conveniences of much larger metropolitan areas like summer and permanent employment opportunities, live entertainment and concerts, fine dining and shopping, industry and commerce.

Iowa City is located in the heart of eastern Iowa, within easy driving distance of several major Midwestern cities including the state capital, Des Moines, as well as Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Minneapolis and Milwaukee.

"Iowa City is unlike any other place in the state, both because of its regional beauty and because of its independent, serendipitous spirit."

"There's nothing like feeling the crisp air as one tours the Big Ten campus, just as there's no other feeling like walking the shores along Lake MacBride, north of town. This is an ideal location for a weekend trip filled with sights, sounds, shopping and plenty of activities on any given weekend."

"If there is a star in Iowa, Iowa City is it."

A CAMPUS ON THE MOVE

The University of Iowa campus caters to pedestrians and bicyclists; it's compact enough to cross in a 20-minute walk. A free ride on a campus bus can cut that time in half. Entertainment on campus and in Iowa City is geared toward student budgets, with many events offered at no charge. The University of Iowa offers more than 400 student organizations, extensive recreation facilities, 50 fraternities and sororities, and a broad schedule of arts performances, lectures, cultural celebrations and club sports and intramural athletic contests to go along with the intercollegiate competition within the Big Ten Conference.

STUDENT-ORIENTED NIGHT LIFE

Iowa's campus is set right in the city's downtown area, where you'll find dance clubs, movies, coffeehouses, and restaurants to suit every taste. Live music can be found any night of the week in clubs and restaurants, even outside on warm evenings on the downtown pedestrian mall. Iowa City businesses are convenient and geared toward student tastes and needs.

CONSIDER THE OPPORTUNITY FOR A QUALITY EDUCATION

A quality education is one of the highest priorities of the University of Iowa. Just over 90 percent of Johnson County residents have graduated from high school, and in Iowa City nearly half of all residents have earned bachelor's degrees. In fact, census statistics indicate Johnson County is the 10th "smartest" county in the nation, based on percentage of residents holding bachelor's degrees.

The University of Iowa represents a strong presence in the community while enhancing the quality of life in Iowa City.

Your aspiration may be a career in medicine, law, business, or engineering. Regardless of the specific career field, it's important to join the college baseball program that places a high priority on academics and allows you to take full advantage of the educational opportunities available.

At the University of Iowa, student-athletes learn quickly that academic success is the highest priority.

ATHLETICS AND ACADEMICS

At The University of Iowa, a strong relationship has been developed between athletics and academics, where basketball coaches and athletes work hand-in-hand with academic deans and professors, ensuring the student-athletes have all possible opportunities to excel in the classroom and in athletics.

From the first visit for any prospective student-athlete, to the completion of their academic and athletic careers, our academic personnel play a large role in the career of Hawkeye student-athletes. Beginning with the on-campus visits, student-athletes are introduced to professors in their selected field of study, and are able to establish a relationship and develop an understanding of the academic setting in which they will be involved.

THE RUSSELL AND ANN GERDIN ATHLETIC LEARNING CENTER

The University of Iowa Russell and Ann Gerdin Athletic Learning Center, opened in the fall of 2003. The Learning Center is a multi-level, 20,000-square foot facility, which provides one all-purpose area for the academic pursuits for Iowa's male and female student-athletes.

The Learning Center features an auditorium, two classrooms, study lounges for freshmen and upper-class student-athletes, a computer lab, a teaching lab, the athletic library, office space for Iowa's Academic Student Services staff and a display area to recognize the academic accomplishments of Iowa's student-athletes.

"The Gerdin Learning Center is a great place for all athletes who need some extra help in the classroom. Whether it is study groups or individual tutors, the Gerdin Learning Center gives us another resource to help reach our degree."

REDSHIRT SOPHOMORE JOSH MARTSCHING

When a student-athlete considers his future, he should consider prospects beyond baseball. He should consider where he wants to be five, ten, fifteen years from today, and the best course of action for getting there. Also, he should decide early on to commit to (and master) in every challenge undertaken.

Without a doubt, the men and women listed here took time to consider their future and the ways to get there. These former University of Iowa undergraduates have gone on to become leaders in their chosen fields. They also pursued their academic studies as strongly as the Iowa Hawkeyes go after a loose ball or rebound.

THE HAWKEYE NICKNAME

The University of Iowa borrowed its athletic nickname from the name of Iowa many years ago. The name Hawkeye was originally the name of the hero in the fictional novel, The Last of the Mohicans, written by James Fenimore Cooper. Cooper had the Delaware Indians bestow the name on a white scout who lived with them.

In 1838, 12 years after the book was published, people in the territory of Iowa acquired the nickname, chiefly through the efforts of Judge David Rice of Burlington and James Edwards of Fort Madison.

Edwards, editor of the Fort Madison Patriot, moved his paper to Burlington in 1843 and renamed it the Burlington Hawkeye. The two men continued their campaign to popularize the name, and territorial officials eventually gave it their formal approval.

HERKY THE HAWKEYE

The Hawkeye nickname gained a tangible symbol in 1948 when a cartoon character, later to be named Herky the Hawkeye, was hatched. The creator was Richard Spencer III, instructor of journalism at Iowa.

The impish Hawk was an immediate hit and acquired a name through a statewide contest staged by the athletic department. John Franklin, a Belle Plaine alumnus, was the man who suggested Herky.

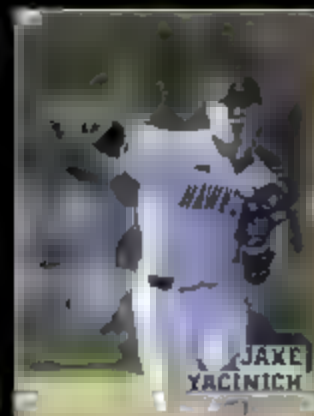

Since his birth more than 45 years ago, Herky has symbolized Iowa athletics and epitomized University life. He even donned a military uniform during the Korean War and became the insignia of the 124th Fighter Squadron.

During the mid-1950s, Herky came to life at a football game as the Iowa mascot. Since that time, Herky has been a familiar figure at Iowa athletics events.
